N. H.—This is an example of "Superiority."

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1889.

TO THE BASS DRUM'S BOOM. spplication to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate).

THE REPUBLICAN HOSTS START OFF TO SEE THE INAUGURATION.

The Lincoln Club Was the First to Move Potomeward-A Big Crowd Ready for the Congressional Limited Train This Afternoon John J. and the O'Brienites Will Ride Away To-Morrow.

Boom! Boom! The big bass drum's deep note is heard in the streets, mingled with the blare of brass and the softer notes of wood instruments.

These sounds die away Jerseyward. The Republican faithful are on their way to Washington to witness the inauguration of their chosen man as President of the greatest public on earth. Many of the party trimmers, wire-pullers and high-muck-a-mucks have gone before, but it was not until to-day that the boys who are to tramp in the Inauguration Day parade began their hegira. The Lincoln Club, of the Seventh Assem. bly District, was the first away on the 10 A. M. Washington Limited express on the Pennsylvania road.

Headed by their commandant, State Senator Cornelius Van Cott, they marched from their rooms in Clinton place to the inspiring music of Bayne's Sixty-ninth Regiment

The route was down Broadway to Cortlandt street ferry, the 225 men reaching the depot just in time to bundle into the Pullman palace cars before the train pulled out depot just in time to bundle into the Pullman palace cars before the train pulled out on its journey to the capital.

Marching with the Club were John Jacob Astor, jr., Lispenard Stewart, Samuel B. Hamburger, the original Harrison man; excongressman "Sitting Bull" Lawson, Alderman Geo. F. Gregory, ex. Alderman Conkling, Assemblyman Francis V. King, ex. Judge Bankson T. Morgan, Frank Willoughby, Dr. Gantier and Frederick Shields.

On the same train with the Lincolnites were Gen. Geo. S. Batcheller, of Saratoga, Assemblymen Eng, of Tompkins; Tredway, of Essex, and Gallup.

The calance of the Republican legislators from Albany who have not gone before are expected to leave on the Congressional limited this afternoon, including Senators C. P. Vedder and George Z. Erwin.

All of the Kings County organizations, including John Y. McKane's Coney Island Invincibles and Mike Dady's Legion, will get away for the Potomac during the afternoon.

On the midnight train to-night the gashouse hosts of the Sixteenth District, after circling about the gasometers and conlyards of the east side, will be off to spend Sunday in the shadow of the Capitol.

The prize party of the New York paraders, the John J. O'Brien Association, will not leave until Sunday, as they want to do a little peacock strutting about the streets in the Fourth Judicial District to-night, to show off their fine raiment and big band.

The balance of the twenty-two clubs from this city which will swell the parade will leave on different trains to-morrow, without thus or bother.

THE OFFICIAL PROGRAMME.

JUST HOW HARRISON AND MORTON WILL BE SWORN IN MONDAY.

The following is the official order of proeedings at the Capitol on inauguration day; The east doors of the Senate wing of the Capitol will be opened at 10 a. M. to those who are entitled to admission. The diplomatic gallery will be reserved for | charged with the the families of the diplomatic corps (tickets thereto will be delivered to the Secretary of of State for distribution). The families of the President and the Pres ident pro tempore of the Senate, the President-elect and the Vice-President-elect, and of the ex-Presidents and ex-Vice Presidents will occupy seats in the gallery west of the diplomatic gallery.

The reporters' gallery will be reserved exclusively for the reporters for the press; tickets to the same will be furnished to the Chairman of the Press Committee.

The remaining seats in the galleries will be open to all who have general tickets for gallery seats. All of the foregoing will enter the east front of the Senate wing of the Capitol. THE PLOOR OF THE SENATE CHAMBER.

The doors of the Senate chamber will be opened at 11 o'clock A. M. to those entitled to admission, as follows:

The President and the President-elect, who will enter the Senate wing by the bronze doors in the east front, each accompanied by a member of the Committee of Arrangements. The President will go directly to the President's room, and the President-elect to the Vice-President's room, where they will remain until they enter the Senate Chamber. Having been introduced by the Committee of Arrangements they will occupy seats reserved for them in front of the presiding officer. The Committee of Arrangements will occupy the Committee of Arrangements and proceed to the Capitol by a member of the Committee of Arrangements and proceed to the Vice-President's room, where he will remain until he enters the Scuate chamber, where the oath of office will be administered where the oath of office will be administered. to him by the President pro tempore of the Senate.

The diplomatic corps will assemble in the The diplomatic corps will assemble in the Marbie room, and proceed in a body at 11, 15 a. M. to the Senate chamber, where they will occupy seats on the right of the chair.

Ex-Presidents and ex-Vice-Presidents, the Chief-Justice, the Associate-Justices and the Chief-Justice, the Associate-Justices, and the ex-Associate-Justices of the Supreme Court will occupy seats on the right of the chair. The Supreme Court will enter the Senate chamber a few moments before the Presi-dent chamber a few moments before the Presicent.

Heads of the Executive departments, the retired general of the army, the Major-General of the army commanding, the Admiral of the navy, and officers of the army and navy who, by name, have received the thanks of Congress, will occupy seats on the left of the chair. Governors of States, ex-Senators of the United States, Indges of the Court of Claims and of the Supreme Court of the District, and the Commissioners of the District will occupy seats east of the moin entrance.

Members of the House of Representatives will enter the Senate chamber by the main entrance at 11.50 A. E., and will occupy seats on the right of the chair, next to the Diplomatic corps.

Initia corps.

Members elect of the Fifty-first Congress admitted by tickets (said tickets to be delivered on the 3d day of March, on personal

THE PROCESSION.

After the organization of the Senate shall have been completed, those assembled in the Senate Chamber will proceed through the rotunds to the platform on the central portice of the Capitol in the following order, viz:

The Marshal of the District of Columbia and the Marshal of the Bupreme Court.

Ex-Presidents and ex-Vice-Presidents.

The Supreme Court.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The Committee of Arrangements.

The Committee of Arrangements, The President and President-elect. The Vice-President and the Secretary of the Senate. Members of the Senate.

Members of the Senate.
The Diplomatic Corps.
Heads of departments.
The retired General of the Army, the MajorGeneral of the Army commanding, the Admiral of the Navy and the officers of the army and navy who, by name, have received the thanks of Congress.
Members of the House of Representatives and members elect, Governors of States, ex-members of the Senate of the United States, officers of the Senate and officers of the House of Representatives.

All other persons who have been admitted to the floor of the Senate chamber, followed by those who have been admitted to the gal-

NOW THEY WILL BY SPATED. While the procession is being formed the reporters for the press will proceed to the seats reserved for them on the platforn.

On reaching the portico, the President and President-elect will take the seats reserved tor them, the Chief-Justice on their right and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate on their left.

the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate on their left.

The Committee of Arrangements will occupy seats next to the President and President-elect.

Ex-Presidents and ex-Vice-Presidents and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the Vice-President, Secretary and members of the Senate will occupy seats on the right.

The diplomatic corps will occupy the seats on the left of the President. Heads of departments, the retired General of the army, the Major-General of the army commanding, the Admiral of the navy, and the officers of the army and navy who, by name, have received the thanks of Congress, Governors of States and ex-members of the Senate, will take seats west of the President.

The members and members-elect of the House will occupy seats reserved for them in the rear of the above.

Such other persons as are included in the preceding arrangements will occupy the steps and the residue of the platform and the portico.

The oath of office will be administered to

The oath of office will be administered to the President-elect by the Chief Justice, or, in his absence, by the senior Justice present. On the conclusion of the ceremonies the members of the Senate, preceded by the the Sergeant-st-Arms, Yice-President and the Secretary, will return to the Senate Chamber, and the President, accompanied by the Committee of Arrangements, will proceed to the Executive Mansion.

All horses and carriages, except those used in conveying persons to the east door of the north wing of the Capitol, will be excluded from the Capitol grounds.

Should the weather prove unfavorable, the inauguration of the President will take place in the Senate chamber.

By reason of the limited capacity of the gallaries of the Senate Chamber—exclusive of the space reserved for the families of the President and President-elect, and the President pro tem. of the Senate, and Vice-President pro tem. of the Senate, and vice-President-elect, the diplomatic and reporters' galleries—the number of tickets is necessarily restricted, and will be distributed as follows:

To each Senator, Senator-elect and Justices portico.

The oath of office will be administered to

To each Senator, Senator-elect and Justices of the Supreme Court, five tickets; members of the House of Representatives, delegates and heads of departments, two tickets each. No person will be permitted to pass from the House wing through the rotunda except members of the House of Representatives and its officers.

ments. John J. Ingalls,
President pro tempore of the Senate.
GEO. F. HOAR,
F. M. COCKRELL,
SHELEY M. CULLOM,
Committee of Arrangements,

THE LOST "POUND SLAUGHTER." Mr. Flegenheimer Felt Like Committing Slaughter All Around.

REWARD-Lost, a pound slaughter; medi-uize; black, brown and white breast. Flex r Bros., 433 5th st.

The above unique advertisement appeared yesterday in the Herald. A reporter for Tur World was sent at once to No. 433 Fifth street, for it is not every day that a pound slaughter (whatever that may be) is lost or a reward offered for its return.

"Good morning, Mr. Flezenheimer," said the polite reporter. "Have you recovered your pound slaughter?"

"Zare!" rejoined the gentleman addressed who is the proprietor of a wine house, "Vy you calls me Fleecemheimer? My name is Flegencalls me Fleecemheimer? My name is Flegenheimer. I know nosings of zee wots you calls zee pound slaughter."

Being shown a copy of the above advertisement, Mr. Flegenheimer, who is ordinarily a most genial gentleman, became frantic.

"Bacre blen! Ten zousand desvils! Vot ees dis? I senz zee advertisement to zee paper zat I loose a hound slut, une grande hunting dog, viz zer brown bodes and ze black and white breasth. Vot zey means by zee pound slaughter? Non comprenez vous. Dam zee paper! My dog vos a rabbit hunter, and I give not only five but ten dollar for ees return to me. He go avay on Tuesday, and I zink I advertise for him zis morning. I pays zee money, and now zey asy I loss ze 'pound slaughter.' Zee paper makes me seek."

Quay's Way to Repay. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

Harmsnuno, Pa., March S.—The Committee of the House appointed to investigate the rumor that the corrupt use of money had defeated the bill prohibiting the importation of dressed beef into the State will meet Thursday evening next to take testimony. Wm. H. Andrews, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, led the opposition to the measure, and his name was coupled with the alleged vota-buying business, but the probability is that Senator Quay wanted the bill killed, and for that reason alone Mr. Andrews fought down its defeat. As for Quay's part in the matter, the story is that he simply repaid the drassed beef men of Chicago for their contributions to the Republican National Committee during the recent campaign. Mr. Andrews said to-day: "In the first place, there is no truth in the report whatever. I deny the charge in toto. The bill was defeated by a fair, honest vote." evening next to take testimony. Wm. H. An-

Does not Mr. Bryant say that "Truth will get well if she is run over by a locomotive, while error dies of lockiaw if she acratches her finger." The truth about Dr. Pierce's Pierasant Priliers will be found hard to suppress. All who take them find them gentle in their action but true in their work. Don't be afraid of mercury or anything harmful in them. They are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. No use of taking the large, repulsive, nameous pills. These Peillers (Little Liver Pills) are scarnely larger than mustard seeds. They cure Sick Headache. Billous Headache, Dirziness, Constipation, Indigestion and Billous Attacks; 126 cents a vial, by druggists.

TAGS ON LITTLE TRAVELLERS

TRREE SMALL HEINTZES JOURNEYING TOWARDS A TEXAS HOME.

They Have Sailed Across the Ocean and Find Their Trip Then but Half Done-Two Brothers and a Sister Who Will Be Glad to See " Fader and Mutter" Once

These little travellers are going to Galveston and thence to their parents, who live in Fistonia, Tex. All travellers who may meet them are earnestly requested to assist them to reach their destination.

This was the inscription on a shipping tag which an Evening World reporter found this morning attached to the coat of Herman Heintz, a bright, flaxen-haired youngster of ten years, who arrived at Castle Garden yesterday from Germany on the steamer Trave. Herman was accompanied by his brother and sister, William and Louise, aged nine and eight years respectively, and each bore a duplicate of the tag on the other side of which was the same injunction in German.

Charlie Gi*schen, the passenger agent of the "Sunset Route," took the little chaps in least even the contraction of the "sunset Route," took the little chaps in least even the contraction of the contrac hand last evening and they were fed and lodged at the Lutheran German Mission, 26 State street, where they were seen this morn-

Siate street, where they were seen this morning.

Neither could speak or understand a word of English, but by way of an interpreter Herman said his father was a "bauer," and that his parents had been in America "zwei year." They came from Mecklenburg Schwerin.

"And will you be a farmer too?" asked the reporter. To which the stout-hearted little chap replied in the affirmative.

"Was he and his little brother and sister seasick on the voyage?"

"Oh, yes, a little on the first day or two out," replied the youngster, contemptiously as became a man.

Louise said, with a sweet, contented smile, that she would be very glad to see "mutter und fader" again, and then her eyes assumed a wandering, far-off look and she heaved a gentle little sigh.

Wilhelm, a thick and chubby chap, was more anxious as to the next meal than anything else, and the Superintendent said laughingly that the three were "great feeders."

laughingly that the three were "great feeders."

The youngsters sail this afternoon for Galveston, on the Mallory steamer Neuces, and will be looked after by a Wurtemburger, who is also a bauer, and is bound with his neat and comely frau and baby to Texas, the promised land of the German farmer.

It will be Friday when the little travellers reach Galveston, and Flatonia is 150 miles up the Southern Pacific route, not far from the Colorado River. By a week from to-day they will be once more in the arms of their parents.

Herman has a few suver coins in his stuffy pockets, and there is a square box containing the joint possessions of the trio. Their trip from Mecklenburg to Flatonia will cost altogether a little more than $50.

THE HAUNTED BRIDEGROOM.

Dreamland Wedding that Was Sur rounded by Dire Forebodings.

"Man Jamie! What in all the world is the matter with you? I have spoken to you twice and got no answer. You have more of the look on one getting ready to go to a funeral than going to your own marriage."

"Yes mother, there is a feeling of sadness on me that should not be, but try as I will, I cannot shake it off.

" It is exactly a year to-day since Will Gordon was killed, and you know that his attenmembers of the House of Arejacute to the Senate its officers.

No person will be admitted to the Senate wing or rotunds or to the platform except as above specified.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate is The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate is about thin the execution of these arrange.

about him to-day while at my work, and mother, as sure as you live. I saw him to-night when coming along the road. He was standing on the spot where he was killed. The look he gave me as I passed makes me shudder yet when I think of it."

"Do not let such nonsense as that upset you," replied my mother. "You ought to be happy, for there is not a lad in the village but would like to be in your place to-night."

Further conversation was cut short by the arrival of Bob Thompson, my best man, and others of my frieuds.

Presently we went to the house of the others of my friends.

Presently we went to the house of the bride's father, where a number of the village girls who had been invited were waiting for us, but not even the happy looks of the blushing bride, the gay chatter of the girls, nor the good-natured jokes of my male friends had any effect in raising my depressed suritis.

friends had any effect in raising my depressed spirits.

We now formed ourselves into a procession to walk to the village church about a quarter of a mile away. When we got outside I feit the feeling of depression increase. Nature itself seemed to be in unison with me. Big black clouds went sourrying over the face of the full moon, which itself was surrounded by a bright ring.

The brook on the other side of the hedge gave out a hollow murmur of discontent, as it leaped from ledge to ledge of its rocky the leaped from ledge to ledge of its rocky channel.

Even the greeting of the men, as they passed returning from their work, seemed to have more of mockery than truth in it.

We now reached the church, around the door of which a number of the village children had gathered, but they made neither sign or sound.

The lights inside seemed to me to be surrounded by a bluish flame, while the anthem sung by the choir sounded in my ear like a funeral dirge. We had just taken our places before the minister, when I became aware of a presence between myself and the bride, and at that part of the service, "I declare you at that part of the service, "I declare you two man and wife," the hand that was placed in mine felt cold and clammy, while the bride shuddered as a breath of cold air swept be-tween us. At the signing of the church regis-there has, At the against of the church regis-ter there was written by a ghostly hand, over my name, the name of William Gordon. When coming through the church door there was a blinding flash of lightning, fol-lowed by a loud peal of thunder, the heavy falling rain scattering the marriage guests and children in every direction.

And there, mounted on a goblin steed, with the manimate form of my bride clasped around the waist, was the form of William Gordon. I stretched out my arms, I tried to cry out.

Gordon. I stretched out my sriss, cry out, when

'Is it possible that you have been sleeping? Why, here is Tom Gordon, to tell you that the cosch is at William's door. You might have leard it clattering past, with the half of the children from Braehead shouting after it. Come, hurry up."

I had been dreaming. It was William Gordon's marriage night, and I was to be his best man.

J. D., Paterson, N. J.

Whistler's Water-Color Exhibit. A dainty collection of water-color sketches by Whistler, which the artist designates as " Notes, Whistler, which the artist designates as "Notes, Nocturues and Harmonies," will be opened to the public at Wunderlich's gallery, Broadway and Reventeenth street, this morning. There are about forty examples of the weird, fascinating style of this unique painter, and from the prevailing tone of color in the room the exhibition may be described as a symphony in crushed strawberry.

WHO GOT HIS MONEY?

Widow Emmerich Insists That Her Husband Was Robbed.

A Case for Investigation by the Police and Hospital Authorities.

The Officer Who First Reached the Man

Mrs. John Emmerich, who has been maid, wife and widow all in less than a week, was sobbing when an Evenino World reporter called at 88 Willett street this morning. A moment later she had gained control over her feelings and told her story to the reporter. The fact about her courtable, marriage and the sudden death of her husband, John Emmerich, on Thursday were fully given in yesterday's Evening World.

Mrs. Emmerich reitorated the charge that there was over $50 in her husband's possession when he fell on the street, she having given him $20 of her own money to keep with $30 in bills, which he showed. She expresses her belief that the money was stolen from him after he fell down in the fit on Division

She said she called at Police Headquarters vesterday, intending to see Acting Supt. Byrnes and lay the matter before him for investigation. She was accompanied by her brother-in-law, Joseph Lumnitzer, at whose home she is at present.

According to the stories told by herself and brother-in-law, they were met in the hallway of the Central Office by an old man wearing a policeman's uniform.

their limited knowlege of the English language, and he told them to speak German and he would direct them where to go. They repeated the story of Emmerich's positive that the dead man had over $50, and wished to see the Superintendent about the matter.

"Oh, you had better leave that matter alone," the officer is reported to have said, adding that they didn't know who had the money, and in order to find out the services of a lawyer would be necessary.

"But the widow has no money," said Mr. Lumnitzer this morning, "and I told him so yesterday. Everything she had in the world was in her husband's possession when he died. If we had money we might hire a lawyer. The policeman told us that the Superintendent's office was unstairs, and we could go up if we wished to, but it would do no good, he said, so we left. We will go to Headquarters again and will press the matter."

The story that there were traces of arsenic in the man's stomach is now doubted. From a further examination it appears that the man died from heart failure, superinduced by too much liquor.

Enmerich was a hard-working fellow and had saved quite a sum of money. Several years ago he bought a farm for his sister, and since then has loaned to his relatives sums of money varying from $20 to $250.

The hospital suthorities doubt that he had more money in his pockets than what they claim they found, but Emmerick and his wife intended starting for Cleveland Thursday night, and it is not probable that he would make the journey with only 38 cents in his pockets.

When the man fell quite a crowd gathered around. Houndsman Ivery, of the Seventh Precinct, was the first to go to the man's assistance. Another policeman from the Twelfth Precinct came up a few minutes

An Evening World reporter met Rounds man Ivery this morning as he was leaving the Madison street station. When questioned concerning the case the roundsman quick-ened his pace and referred the reporter to the station-house.

The reporter walked along with him, how-ever, and insisted upon an answer to his ever, and insisted upon an answer to his question.

"I don't know anything about the case," said he; "you had better go to the station-house."

"This affair happened in another precinct, and you were the first to go to the man's assistance, therefore you can tell better what happened than any one else."

"Gq down to the station-house," he repeated, rather excitedly.

The Sergeant at the desk explained that the roundsman knew nothing of the case.

the roundaman knew nothing of the case.

'The story that be told me," said the Sergeant, 'was that he was walking along Division street and that he discovered Emmerich lying face downward upon the oppo-ate sidewalk.

site sidewalk.

"He carried the injured man to a doorway and covered him up with his overcoat, which had dropped. According to his story he left the sick man in charge of a friend who had been walking with him (Ivery), and

A Chance for Art Lovers.

A canvas attributed to Giulio Romano, and upposed to belong to the period of 1492-1546. will be on view this evening at the studio of Roswell D. Sawyer, in the Sherwood Studio Building. subject of the picture. It represents the Ma-donna robed as Queen of Heaven seated upon a donns robed as Queen of Heaven seated upon a throne and bearing in her arms the infant Christ, whose hands are outstretched for a cluster of purple grapes which she holds just beyond his grasp. Figures of a little St. Joseph and an infant St. John occupy the right and left of the canvas, and an angel hovers in cloud overhead. This picture is the property of Herr Marcel Jellinck, a German actor, confrère of Ludwig Barnay and Possart. This gentleman has married an American girl. Miss Rose Lindh, and taken up permanent residence in New York.

Suce for an Accounting.

pany, is suing here for an accounting and dent Salaries are paid the officers; that Presi-dent Blake was paid his salary for two or three years while travelling in Europe and the Holy Land for dessure; that $2.75,000 was spent last year in fitting up one office; that the direc-tors transferred $700,000 of the company's property to a New Jersey concern called the Do-mestic Manufacturing Company, receiving in return $2.90,000 in stock of the last-named company. It is also claimed that the officers of the Domestic own all of the stock in the New Jersey corporation, and that no dividends have been declared since 1872.

"Sorring Stylen" already "INAUGURATED." Espendesco's HAYS, 118 Nassau St. 118.

TIPPECANOE'S INAUGURATION.

Sam's Navy.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

GEN. TRACY, OF BROOKLYN,

IS THIS A WOULD-BE RIPPER?

with Plenty of Kuives.

PAPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

found concealed about his person, one such as is used by butchers.

Deputy Clerk Monheimer's Ilinear

Ingersoll, of this city, Clerk of the Superior Court for New Haven County, has mailed his

An Oyster Boat Captain Missing.

Charles Tooya, of Steubenville, N. J., asked

Death of a Valuable Brood Mare.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I will have the Navy.

the portfolio.

They excused themselves to the official for death in Gouverneur Hospital, and said that they received only 38 cents and a few trinkets from the hospital authorities. They were positive that the dead man had over $50, and wished to see the Superintendent about the of Special Sessions, who has been confined on a sick bed at his residence, 55 East Seventy-third street, for the past six months, is in a precarious condition, and the doctors have given up all hope for his recovery. He is suffering from Bright's disease and heart "The Adoration of Charity" is the failure.

Mr. Monheimer was an Alderman when Have-meyer was Mayor and has been Deputy Clerk for the past seven years.

resignation to Chief-Justice Park. Ingersoll was mixed up in the recent unsavory Trowbridge-Anderson-Ingersoll scandal. He left town very suddenly about two weeks ago, and has since kept out of the State. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
CLEVELAND, O., March 2.—David Blake, who owns 364 of the 1,850 shares of the capital stock of the Domestic Sewing Machine Comthe headquarters police to-day to send out an alarm for his brother Andrew, who is captain of sight at the books. Blake claims that exorbian oyster boat lying at the foot of West Tenth street and has not been seen or heard of since Feb. 32, when he suddenly disappeared. He is believed to have had a considerable sum of money on his person when he left. tant salaries are paid the officers; that Presi-

Gen. Harrison's Grandfather Taking the Oath of Office March 4, 1841. (From an Old Print in the Collection of Back-Number Budd.)

MOST REMARKABLE WILL YET

NO ONE CAN BE FOUND TO CARRY OUT ITS He Is Likely to Rule Uncle PROVISIONS.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 2.-Judge Bar pard said this morning that the will of Horatio G. Onderdonk, brother of the Bishop WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2 .- From inof Pennsylvania and Bishop of New York, is formation received this morning it seems the most extraordinary document he has ever passed upon. It is now before the General Term for construction and three or four millions of do!

lars are involved. It is utterly out of the question to find a man to fulfil its requirements. It prohibits the paying to any heir his portion who is or becomes an idler, sluggard, spendthrift, profligate, drumkard, gambler, fast-man, or one who habitually omits rising, breakfast ing, or being ready for business by 9 o'clock ing, or being ready for business by 9 o'clock in the morning. Sundays excepted, or omits pusuing reputable business while over twen-ty-one or under fifty, or who engages in hunt-ing or fishing on Sundays.

He is also dismherited if he habitually uses spirituous liquors or tobacco, or attends horse races, pool-rooms, porter-houses, &c.

The document also disinherits any beneficiary who marries before twenty-five years old without the written consent of parents or executors of the will.

The will further says : " Or who participates in or encourages any proceeding tend-ing to lessen public respect for me or my family, their names or memory, or tending to bring any one of my blood, excepting my in-famous John into disgrace, &c."

Many lawyers have perused the document this morning. lmost certain that Gen. Tracy, of Brooklyn. His friends say he has formally accepted

WAS THERE A MUNICIPAL PLATE?

Charged with Attacking Women and Found The Oldest Inhabitant with the Longest Memory Has a Chauce Here. George McAvery, of Jersey City, has asked FALL RIVER, Mass , March 2 .- Several comquestion relating to this municipality which plaints have been made to the police of as as stumped even the perennial Capt. Two saults upon women in the suburbs of the city ney. Clerk to the Common Council for known as Oak Grove Village, Yesterday

mey. Clerk to the Common Council for thirty-two years, and a walking cyclopædia of local information.

The Jerseyman says he has some plate which is a part of a service which once tolonged to the Corporation of New York, having been presented by somebody. It was sold once on a time, and through several hands it has reached his. He wants to present this plate to the Metropolitan Museum of Art but to make the historical record of the gift perfect he wants to know who gave the service to the city; to whom the city sold it, when, why and the price.

Capt, Twomey drew a long breath when Mr. McAvery's letter was laid before him. He rubbed his glasses hard, but his mental vision couldn't discover the bistory of that plate in his wonderful memory, and ne deafternoon a man was arrested for acting sus iciously.

At the station he gave his name as Richard Driver, aged twenty-five, residence Orange street. On being searched three large knives were He also had a reed hook such as is used by weavers.

Several women, who had complained of assault, saw him at the station and two posi-tively identified him. Deputy Clerk Joseph Monheimer, of the Court plate in his wonderful memory, and he de-clared that he had never heard of any mu-nicipal plate before. But, it is a fact, that until 1849, when a new charter was adopted, there were Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen who virtually controlled the whole city and got no salary for it. They had perquisites, however, and one of them took the form of a grand dinner after the fornigntly meetings of the Board, which At 7 o'c ock, when they had completed the portentions business of government, they retried to the room in which Capt. Twomey's assistants now perform their work, and had Ingersoll Resigns, but Not in Person. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I HAVEN, Conn., March 2.—Jonathan assistants now perform their work, and had a swell dinner. The room was known as the 'tea-room,' that designation sounding less harshly on the ear of the tax-paver, probably, that b nquet hall.

Whether the Aldermen, every one of whom had the executive power of a Mayor in some department, had also a silver plate service belonging to the city, Capt. Twomey confesses he cannot tell.

Mr. McAvery has been invited to come over the river and search the archives in the City Library for such information as he wants.

The House to Be Ruthlessly Sold, Too. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 2. -In addition o the sale of the plot wherein the remains of Mary, the mother of Washington, lie, the house in which she lived and died will be hammered down at Tuesday's anction. PARIS. Ky., March 2 .- The twelve-year-old A Long Month on the Island. brood mare, Conkling Maid, by Volunteer, dam William Long got a month on the island at the Essex Market Court this morning. He was re-Nancy Awful (the dam of Barus), by Telegraph, died last night of inflammation of the spine. She was the property of James E. Clay, who recently paid $1,300 for her. She was in foal to king Wikes. fused a drink in Jacob Wolf's saloon, 11 De-lancey street, because he hadn't any money. Then he demolished a mirror,

PRICE ONE CENT.

2 O'CLOCK.

IS PIGOTT.

No Doubt About the Identity of the Madrid Suicide.

He Telegraphed the "Times's" Solicitor

at London by Name of "Ponsonby."

Witnesses Have Started for Paris & Formally Identify Him-

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LONDON, March 2.—A despatch has been received here which identifies the Madrid micide as Pigott beyond doubt.

BICHARD PIGOTT. Mr. Soames, the Times solicitor, London office.

The telegram announced his safe arrival The English Government, it is presumed,

The English Government, it is presumed, learned from this the whereabouts of Pigott. It is reported that a notebook containing the addresses of many persons in Ireland was found on the suicide's body.

These details have convinced every one here of Pigott's suicide, and a profound sensation is the result.

Several persons have left Paris for Madrid for the purpose of formally identifying the remains. emains. The police of Madrid will hold the suicide's

The police of Madrid will hold the suicide's effects pending an order for their disposal.

The suicide is described as being about fifty-five or sixty years of age, with a baid head and long gray and white beard.

He arrived at the hotel here on the express train from Paris yesterday morning.

The only luggage he had with him was a small hand satchel. marked with the initials

R. P., which also strengthened the sus-picion that the arrival was Pigott. It was presumed that the name Ronald Ponsonby was assumed to comply with these During the afternoon he visited a picture nuseum, accompanied by a hotel interpre-All the time a police agent was closely atching him.

watching him.

The man returned to the hotel about 5 o'clock. The police agent followed and placed him sunder arrest on suspicion of being the forger.

The man took his arrest quietly, and asked to be excused until he could get his hat.

He then entered an alcove of the apartment and shot himself in the mouth, dying almost instantily.

almost instantly. PUNISHED FOR THAT DYNAMITE JOKE. Freshmen Suspended and Consured by the Wesleyan University Faculty. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, ] MIDDLETOWN, Conn., March 2.—The in-vestigat on made by the Faculty of Wesleyan University into the dynamite explosion on Washington's Birthday, by which Freshman Hubbard was maimed for life, has resulted in the sustension of eight members of the Freshmen class and the censure of nine others.

Among those suspended was T. H. Tackaberry, of New York City, and C. E. North, of New York City and C.C. Burns of Brooklyn, were of those censured. The suspended students have not yet left for home. others.

WORKMEN MUST BE SCARCE THERE, The Sons of Governor and Oakes Ames at Work in the Strikers' Places.

PRPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I NORTH EASTON, Mass., March 2.-The strike of the handlers employed at the Ames shovel works still continues, and the prospect of a settlement is no nearer than the day the men chine out.

Last evening the men held a meeting and voted unanimously nor to go back until a settlement had been made. To day the sons of Gov. Ames and Oakes Ames were at work in strikers' places.

Athletes with Social Leanings. The Aurania Athletic and Social Club held a reception last evening at the residence of Mr. M. J. Phelan, 232 East One Hundred and Research of the Armed William Albanda Miss Ratio Phelan, Richard Mamlok, Miss Jamio Campbed, Matthew Wall, Miss George Hardin, Miss Frances Duvall, William You Dohlen and Miss Georgie Drew were among those present.

From the Sturtevant to a Hospital. Charles Smith, of Danbury, Conn., a guest at the Sturtevant House, was removed thence to the New York Hospital this morning in a sick and helpless condition. He is a young man.

Rucing at Guttenburg. JERSET CITY, March 2.—There will be racing at Guttenburg to-day, rain or shine.